Directors' Dayz Out

For the second quarterly Directors Dayz Out we will bring back Ann V. Deaton.

Directors found Ann's coaching techniques and tools useful when she facilitated a discussion on personnel issues in season one. During this session she will bring additional skill-building techniques which will assist Directors in managing their jobs.

Ann is a leadership coach with DaVinci Resources who has worked in health care settings for more than 20 years before transitioning into her coaching and consulting career. She is an instructor for Nonprofit Learning Point and teaches courses in transformational leadership, emotional intelligence, and human motivation.

This one-day event has been designed to provide Sexual and Domestic Violence Program Directors with the opportunity to enhance their leadership skills, network with peers and explore professional strategies to strengthen the impact of their agencies.

Let us know in advance if there are issues you will like to cover for the after portion of the day.

Bon Secours has generously provided support for the 2010 Directors Dayz Out series--helping us to reduce the registration fee and to bring speakers to two of the four sessions this year. Recovery Act funds are available through the Action Alliance to reimburse travel expenses--please be sure to pick up a reimbursement form at the session.

Registration Fee: $15

Coffee, drinks and lunch will be provided.

Who should attend:
